ARCHITECTURAL SIGNIFICANCE (describe important architectural features and evaluate in terms of other buildings within community)

This two and a half story house with gable roof is vernacular Victorian in style. The architectural detail in the building is kept to a minimum. The cornerboards, bay window and front entrance are clearly inspired by the varied styles popular during the late nineteenth century. The stickwork in the entrance porch is reminiscent of the Stick Style and the brackets ornamenting the bay window as well as the front entrance are derived from the earlier Italianate styles.

HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE (explain the role owners played in local or state history and how the building relates to the development of the community)

The original owner of this house has yet to be documented. It could possibly have been Charles Genn. He the sold the property to Arthur Waycott who conveyed the property to Jennie E. Day in 1916.
